Run 1955 – Moana - Is he the Jackson Pollock of hashing ?

“Shit run - shit nosh - shit night”: are six words that are often associated with Moana.

But these words were not heard Tuesday night as the trail master once again put on a night that can only be achieved after years of hashing experience and expertise. We have been to Moana’s (Trump) Tower multiple times this year and every time he puts on a night to remember (some good - some not so).

From the moment you arrive at the ground floor unit - one can feel the it. Standing on the fake lawn waiting for the GM to introduce the hare, listening to the instruction and then the call of On On. The pack is underway.

It starts with the personalised Moana “M” arrows, the preparation of two runs (considerate of both walkers and runners) - and always well marked. A different trail no matter how many runs he has held (or co-hared) in recent weeks. A true master of his craft on display.

The night took us round the main streets of the beautiful North Cairns (and a few grassy laneways), then onto the busy tourist strip of Cairns city to a poolside drink stop. - (Unfortunately, some didn't make it to the drink stop but this was no fault of the hare!).

The after run cooling drinks washed down some home made tasty pre-circle nibbles, always a delight at Moana’s Seaview Abode. The circle is always held across the park - on the finger jetty (another thoughtful consideration to his apartment neighbours) and with the sound of the surf in the background the circle can be held in true Hash style. The GM bro Stroker unfurls his magic and quickly works through the agenda. The run report is given and underscored by bro Nicotine. The visitors and returned runners are welcomed with down downs, a shirt is passed from one hasher to another, a celebration run report is given and charges are made. An appearance of the RA means something special is about to occur - and an unnamed runner is named

- welcome sister Turtle (back home and ready to lay some eggs).

The business items of the evening are dealt with efficiently by the GM before other matters of a more personal nature are announced, the passing away of a fellow hasher and the distressing news that sister Modnoc is in need of willing assistance assistants after an unfortunate accident (bum wipers and showering helpers need not apply). The circle finished with an excellent joke from brother Royal T before moving to the luxurious pool area for a nosh of not boiled sausages.

Another A1 performance - “Shit run Shit nosh shit night - I think not! If Australia could bottle and sell Moana we would go a long way to being debt free. (even if we don't get any money ... it might be a good idea anyway ... Ed)
